Plans Shaping Up For Legion Frolic

Committee Appointments Made For 'A Night Over There'.

UNDER JOINT AUSPICES

Plans for "A Night Over There," the gala entertainment, dance and card party to be given at the Merion Tribute House the latter part of May, were furthered at a meeting of interested parties in the Legion Rooms of the Community Building on Tuesday evening.

The affair will be under the joint auspices of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion and a Citizens committee of men and women.

Committee appointments approved at Tuesday's meeting include the following: tickets, Mrs. A. L. Cooke, chairman; programs, Alan Shubert, chairman; arrangements, John Nash, chairman, assisted by Robert C. Collins, Arthur L. Cooke, C. J. Clarke, Frank Schrepfer, Alan Shubert, and Earl Dickie; publicity, J. J. Cabrey, chairman. Robert C. Collins was appointed secretary and William S. Howard treasurer.

A Community Committee will be formed during the coming week to assist in putting the evening over in good style.

The funds derived from the entertainment will be used to defray the debt which the Legion is carrying and perhaps to provide a nucleus to permit of a greater degree of service to the community by the Post in the future.

Suffers Severe Injuries

Joseph A. McKeon, of S. Narberth Avenue, Narberth, suffered concussion of the brain and a severe cut on the head requiring fourteen stitches in an automobile accident at White Horse Pike and Crescent Boulevard, Collingswood, on Monday night. A companion in the car, Abraham Holsman, of Philadelphia, had his left ear nearly torn off. Both were treated at Kennedy's Hospital, Oaklyn.

Registration Books Missing

Lost, strayed or stolen: Registry Assessor books from District No. 1 (Elm Hall) and District No. 3 (Scout House). The removal of these books is contrary to voting regulations. Anyone knowing of their whereabouts is requested to communicate with Registry Assessors Emma Mueller or Mary M. Livingston.

South Side Numbers 1063

A preliminary count of returns of the Fifteenth Census for Narberth's third district (south side) show a population of 1063. The report came from the office of the supervisor of the census for the 22nd district of Pennsylvania, Monroe H. Anders, Norristown.

Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Elects Officers

At the meeting of Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club on Tuesday noon officers were elected for the ensuing year beginning July 1. Following the casting of a unanimous ballot by the secretary short speeches were made by the new officers.

They are William H. Decker, Cynwyd, president; Ralph S. Dunne, Narberth, vice president; William H. Fowler, Narberth, secretary; John Murray, Cynwyd, treasurer; J. Bedford Woolley and Raymond Watrous, directors.

Miss Cowin's Exhibit Continued by Request

Art Display at Library Attracts Favorable Interest and Comment

The art exhibit of Margery Dorrance Cowin at the Narberth Library this past week has arrested the attention of all who have entered the room and has occasioned many expressions of delight and commendation. Miss Cowin shows herself extremely versatile for while she apparently prefers oils as a medium, employing them in portraits and in landscapes as well as in flowers and in still life, she also uses a pencil very deftly as seen in her sketches displayed on the bulletin near the librarian's desk. Her technique is good and she excels in color and composition, although her drawings in charcoal have aroused admiration for the sweep and character of the stroke.

The posters and illustrations displayed in the children's department are worthy of attention and the little sketches of the south where Miss Cowin has been working this winter are lovely things, and the quality of their appeal is tangibly indicated by the fact that one of them is now marked "sold," the result of a visit to the library by a woman who had herself

School Pupils to Celebrate May Day

Program of Folk Dancing and Exercise to Be Given on Playground.

PUBLIC IS INVITED

The pupils of the borough schools will celebrate Good Health Day by presenting a May Day program, to which the public is invited.

This will be held at the Community Playfield on Thursday, May first at 1:30 o'clock.

The program will include folk dancing by the lower grades and the sixth and seventh grade girls under the direction of Miss Church, and gymnastic work by the older boys directed by Mr. Weatherall. The exercises will demonstrate the regular work of the school in the physical education department.

First Grade—How Do You Do My Partner, Chimes of Dunkirk, Shoemakers' Dance.

Second Grade—Farmer in the Dell, Danish Dance of Greeting, Children's Polka.

Third Grade—I. See You, Gustaf's Skoal.

Fourth Grade—Dutch Couple Dance, Ace of Diamonds.

Fifth Grade—Bleking.

Sixth and Seventh Boys—Free Exercises.

Sixth Grade Girls—Highland Schottische.

Seventh Grade Girls—Irish Lilt, Klappdans.

Seventh Grade Boys—Indian Club Drill.

Sixth and Seventh Grade Girls—Ribbon Dance.

Seventh Grade Boys — Dumb Bell Drill, Pyramids.

Sixth and Seventh Grade Girls—Maypole Dance.

Children will assemble at Community Building at one o'clock. In the event of rain the program will be postponed to May second.

Boy Fliers May Try Out Planes Tomorrow

Practice Meet, in Preparation For Boy Week Event, to Be Held at Ardmore Theatre.

PLANS ARE COMPLETE

Final plans for Boy Week to be held on the Main Line May 3 to 10, inclusive, were discussed at a meeting of the Main Line Boy Council held at the Ardmore Y. M. C. A. last night.

Boys who are interested in the Model Plane meet to be held in the Ardmore Theatre on Saturday morning, May 10, will have a chance to try out their planes tomorrow morning in the Ardmore Theatre.

Chairman of this event, John B. Alker, has arranged with the theatre officials for the use of the theatre tomorrow morning in order that the boys may familiarize themselves with conditions of the meet.

Mr. Alker has also arranged to have some boys experienced in exhibiting planes in indoor meets to be present and put on an exhibition so that when the time comes for the real meet all boys will know just what is expected of them and their model planes.

All boys wishing to take part in this meet are urged to be at the theatre tomorrow morning at 9:30 with their planes.

Favorable reports were handed in by chairmen of other committees and, weather permitting, it is expected that this year's Boy Week will excel any affair of its kind held along the Main Line in previous years.

Community Club to Observe Past Presidents' Day

Past Presidents' Day will be observed at the Women's Community Club of Narberth on Tuesday, April 29, at the regular meeting. It is hoped that all the Past Presidents will be present. Mrs. C. P. Fowler, who now resides in Chicago, is expected to add pleasure to the occasion.

The program will be given by the Past Presidents and will be a surprise, but it is hinted that there will be much more comedy than tragedy in the offering. The annual election of officers also will be held at this time and the board of directors have called a meeting to consider a proposal of an offer for the lot now owned by the club on Essex Avenue.

Elected officers will receive and Mrs. W. Russell Green, president, and Mrs. E. C. Drew, president of the board of directors, will pour at the tea table.

Banquet Called Off

The banquet scheduled to be given the Lower Merion Basketball Team at the Wynnewood Road School last evening (Thursday) was officially called off on Wednesday.

G. O. P. Organization For Senator Grundy; County Independents Charged With 'Hypocrisy'

The Johnson regular Montgomery County Republican Organization has indorsed the candidacy of Senator Joseph R. Grundy for nomination and election as junior United States Senator from Pennsylvania. Incidentally, Grundy support is increasing throughout the State. Charles Johnson, secretary of Internal Revenue and county leader, has indorsed no candidate for Governor. His candidates for State Senator and for Assemblyman from this district are, respectively, James S. Boyd and Fred C. Peters, Ardmore, both incumbents.

Lower Merion organization leaders thus far have made no definite expressions of indorsement but it is almost certain they will back the Johnson candidates without a single exception. At present two difficult tangles face them: 1. Whom to back for Governor. 2. How to swing a large majority for the regular candidates in Lower Merion without stepping on the toes of too many personal friends of Benjamin H. Ludlow, candidate for State Senator, and Maurice W. Sloan, Jr., candidate for assemblyman.

Distinct rumblings are being heard from the rock-ribbed centers, however, and at least one spokesman close to the top of Lower Merion political affairs charged Ludlow and Sloan with "hypocrisy." "The camel and duck

"Time Out"

By TOMMY MACKLIN

None of the Main Line teams in the Inter-Ac League are flirting with first place. All the important positions are at present taken up by teams from the other side of Philadelphia.

Penn Charter is taking care of first place splendidly, due somewhat to the graceful twirling of young Collon Hillier.

Slim Jennisen, of Episcopal Academy, held Germantown Academy to three hits in their Inter-Ac game Tuesday afternoon at City Line. It was a splendidly pitched game and his teammates helped him considerably with an early lead.

Lower Merion's track squads are maintaining a winning stride lately. The Junior High showed considerable power in their overwhelming victory over Lansdowne, while the Senior High School turned in a neat afternoon's work when they overcame Haverford College Freshmen, 64 1-3 to 52 2-3.

Young Richard Sigel is following in his older brother's footsteps by winning regularly in the shot and discus heaves.

Bob, the older member of the family, holds the record in the javelin throw. He is at Penn State College at present, was a member of the basketball squad and is now doing his stuff in Freshman track work.

We are glad to see Joe McCann doing the catching for Temple University as first string receiver on the baseball team. Joe used to be the Lower Merion catcher when Coach Fowler taught the youth of the Main Line how to play the national pastime.

Temple has had the breaks this season, but the breaks came the wrong way.

Their three first string pitchers were going pretty good in the preliminary practices, when one of them received a broken nose, another a broken finger and the third a broken Adam's apple.

We'll bet that poor fellow swallowed hard. Probably thought he was drinking cider.

We beg your pardon. It won't happen again.

Changing the subject rather rapidly, we would like to call attention to the three-hit game turned in by Keith Parks against Abington High School, league leaders until they met Lower Merion.

The Maroon, with Park's beautiful twirling, reduced them to mere runners-up. All of their hits were of the single bag variety.

With Roy Williams learning a little about hitting and Seaver Rose beginning to show his true form with the bludgeon, Coach Cocklin is bound to win some ball games.

It's too bad the basketball banquet had to be called off. The fellows who wanted it so badly failed to show up with the two fifty when the time came.

Of course, it is a bit late for such a demonstration, but the boys did deserve it and the whole township should have turned out to it with tin horns and loud praises. L. M. may not have another good advertiser such as Anderson's winning basketball squad in some time.

Although the Phillies are not exactly a local product, still, if you want to get your money's worth go out to see the future National League champions.

Two burglars were surprised in a New York warehouse by a plumber who arrived at 5 A. M. to do some repairs. It was enough to surprise anybody.

Amos Subject of Diverse Opinions at Forum Talk

Amos, the first literate personage of the Old Testament, aroused a greater difference of opinion at the last meeting of the Forum than was the case with earlier characters who had to depend upon later chroniclers and poets fo rthe records that we have of them. Possibly it was the reality of Amos' own projection of his personality into the written record that made him seem more tangible and, therefore, more debatable.

The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Wood, of Forrest Avenue, and was well attended. One man present said that Amos struck him as being a typical farmer, whining over the prosperity of the cities and the fact that city people had different manners and customs from those of the primitive tillers of the soil. These opinions were endorsed by a woman member whose charming personality made it seem surprising, but, on the other hand, a tired business man in the group expressed his approval of Amos as being the first person to evolve and express social morality and the right of every man, rich or poor, to receive justice and fair dealing from his fellowmen. Amos was the intellectual and moral ancestor of Carl Marx and the Bolshivicks, in that man's opinion.

The next meeting will be held at 8 o'clock on the evening of May 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, of 424 Woodbine Avenue. Isaiah will be the subject of the study and discussion, led by Rev. Robert E. Keighton.

Maroon Sticksmiths Beat Abington; Tie for 2nd Place

Lower Merion went into a tie for second place in the Suburban League by virtue of a 6-to-1 victory over the Abington High baseball team last Tuesday afternoon.

Keith Parks, the big righthander from Narberth, held his opponents to 3 slight hits during the nine inning game, and all the scoring the Abington boys could do was the result of a miscue by one of the infielders wearing the maroon.

Roy Williams crashed out a three-base hit for the longest swat of the afternoon. Seaver Rose threw his bulk against a double, Keith Parks helped his cause along with three hits, and Lachman Reinhart continued to be a real cleanup hitter by slashing out two singles. In all, the homelings gathered together eleven hits, which shows the boys are the making of a real ball club. This was the first defeat Abington has suffered in the league this season.

A New York girl found $2000 on the street, returned it, and won a husband. Which proves to girls they can't be too careful about what they pick up on the street.

L. M. Defeats Haverford Frosh in Track Meet

Lower Merion High School won their dual meet with the Haverford Frosh on Walton Field last Tuesday afternoon b ya rather close margin, 64 1-3 to 52 2-3.

Coach Albert Adam's proteges had to do some tall hustling in the field events to win the meet. Dick Sigel was high scorer with ten points gathered from two first places. Ernie Parks, the tall colored boy from Bryn Mawr, did some nice running to take first in the 440 and second in the mile.

Clarence Scott, he of the tackling fame, threw the javelin for a first place, while Hansel won the high jump, and Dave Ridge tied with John Pennypacker for first in the pole vault.

Young People's Class to Lead Sunday School

The Young People's Bible Class of the Narberth Presbyterian Church is becoming increasingly active. This Friday evening they are meeting for a good time—a combined business meeting and social—at the home of the teacher, Mr. P. Stam, Jr., 111 Rockland Avenue, and on Sunday morning they will lead the exercises of the main session of the Sunday school.

Members of the Sunday school and friends who would like to attend and enjoy exercises that will be quite unusual and helpful as well, had better plan to be on hand this Sunday morning, "brite 'n' early" at 9:45 DAYLIGHT SAVING time, or will have to bear their regrets when they hear later what they have missed!

All young people not connected with other Sunday schools are invited to visit and join the class—hikes, social evenings and real Bible study with a group of congenial friends, make it well worth while.

Black Sox Whitewashed Cubs Plan Benefit Here

The Narberth Cubs defeated the Ardmore Black Sox by the score of 13-4, Wednesday. Fred Disque pitched good ball and his mates gave him good support. The batting honors went to "Bob" Peterson, "Joe" and "Fred" Disque.

The Lucky Nine went down to defeat in the second game of the season Monday. The Cubs had lost the first game of the series by the score of 11-7, but were in rare form and were never behind throughout this week's game. The Lucky Nine used three pitchers—Sexton, Claffey and Smith, while Burgess went the entire game for the Cubs. The hitting honors went to "Lou" Young and Burgess.

The Cubs plan to give a benefit in order to buy uniforms, at the Narberth Theatre May 5-6-7-8. Tickets may be bought from either Bob Cook, 10 Hampden Avenue, or Fred Disque, 214 Avon Road. The shows scheduled at the theatre the nights of the benefit are Ruth Chatterton in "The Laughing Lady" and Sue Carrol in "The Big Party."

Narberth Theatre Notes

As much care is required for the selection of suitable short subjects as for the feature pictures at the Narberth Theatre, according to the theatre management. "They must be interesting, and suitable for the entire family." Recent "shorts," as they are called, have won approval of audiences here, and it is the management's intention to continue to offer the very best.

Accompanying "Harmony at Home," screen version of "The Family Upstairs," in which William Collier, Sr., and Margaret Churchill are starred at the Narberth Theatre this week end, are a talking comedy, "After the Show," a Mickey Mouse comedy, and Fox Movietone News.

Monday and Tuesday, Mary Brian will be seen-heard in "The Marriage Playground," which is based on Edith Wharton's novel, "The Children." Norma Talmadge's first talking picture, "New York Nights," will be featured at the Narberth playhouse next Wednesday and Thursday. "The Grand Parade," with Helen Twelvetrees and Fred Scott, will be the attraction next week-end.

Music School Offers Interesting Program May 1

A pleasing program by junior pupils and faculty of the Main Line School of Music, Ardmore, with the assistance of a group from the Main Line Orchestra, Adolph Vogel conducting, is announced for Thursday evening, May 1, at 8:15 o'clock at St. Mary's Parish House, Ardmore.

Three young students, Dorothy Guckes, Arnold Fletcher and Mary Andrews, will play the Mozart Concerto in D minor. A solo number will be contributed by Agnes Hegener.

The second half of the program will consist of ensemble numbers by members of the faculty. The Grieg Sonata in F major will be played by Josephine Gemberling, violin, and Christine Haskell, piano. Tarantelle by Saint-Saens will be given by Richard Cameron, flute; William Fletcher, clarinet, and Christine Haskell, piano.

The public is cordially invited.

War Veterans' Benefit to Be Held at Egyptian Theatre All Next Week

A benefit for the Miller-Merkle Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, No. 1599, will be held at the Egyptian Theatre, Cynwyd, all next week. Proceeds of tickets sold by members of the post and local stores will aid the veterans' work for disabled and unemployed men who saw overseas war service.

Tickets, which are obtainable three in a strip, at a slightly reduced price, are food for any one of the three shows to be given next week: Monday and Tuesday—Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook in "The Laughing Lady;" Wednesday and Thursday—Ann Pennington and Arthur Lake in "Tanned Legs;" and Friday and Saturday—Norma Shearer in "Their Own Desire."

The tickets have been mailed many residents, with addressed return envelopes in which payment for them may be sent to the post. They may be obtained from any member of the V. F. W. post, and especially Daniel L. Hickey, Bala-Cynwyd mail carrier; and Christian Kirsch, of the Kirsch Chevrolet Company, Bala Avenue; also at King's, French's and Rozboril's pharmacies and Whiteside's market in Cynwyd; and Harry H. Hamer's delicatessen and Paul Shea's pharmacy in Narberth.

Easter Fair

A warm and sunny Easter was the only bright spot in an otherwise rainy and cloudy week. Seven-tenths of an inch of rainfall covered the section during Holy Week, but Easter dawned bright and fair, the mercury rising to 62 degrees. Temperatures for the week ending Sunday showed a decided tendency to be below normal.

Autocar Adds 93 Men to Payroll Since January 1, as Industry Swings Upward

With unemployment the subject of much anxious concern in many industrial centres, and accurate figures concerning it somewhat difficult to obtain, it will be of interest to the residents and business men of the Main Line community to know that employment has actually increased at the Autocar factory in Ardmore since the first of the year.

Up to the end of the first week in April, the increase of shop men on the Autocar payroll since January 1 had amounted to ninety-three men. There are still sixty less shop men on the Autocar factory payroll now than was the case a year ago, but that group reached its highest point in April, 1929, whereas at present all indications point to a steady upward trend during the next few months.

This favorable situation at the Autocar factory is a reflection of the fact that the sale and delivery of Autocar motor trucks this year, while not so large as a year ago, is showing a much smaller shrinkage in both number of units and in percentage figures than appears to be the case with the motor truck industry in general and with other manufacturing lines. This is an indication of both the ability of the Autocar sales organization and a reflection of the attitude of the market toward the modern line of Autocar trucks.

Week's Activity in Main Line Real Estate

A tract of ground, consisting of five and one-half acres, at the intersection of Merion Square Road and Old Gulph Road, Haverford, has been sold by William Woodburn Potter to C. Wilson McNeely, of Overbrook, who will build on the site a residence in the Norman style of architecture designed by Mr. Potter. The house will contain six masters rooms and baths, three servants' rooms and bath and a four-car garage with chauffeur's quarters. The ground was held for sale at $50,000.

An English stone and timbered residence containing five bedrooms and three baths, with garage, on about one-third acre of ground, west of Cherry Lane, Wynnewood, has been sold by Samuel C. Wagner, Jr., for a client to Alva W. Stuart, who will occupy the premises.

D. A. R.'s Hear of Flag Lore; Plan Annual Luncheon

Mrs. Charles Shaw and Mrs. Edward Freeman were hostesses to the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, N. S. D. A. R. on Monday, April 21. Mrs. Charles Irwin, Regent, presided and the speaker of the afternoon was Miss Edna R. Worrell, Penna. Chairman, Correct Use of Flag, and regent of the Flag House Chapter. Miss Worrell speaks most interestingly of flag lore, (because of the family connection with Betsy Ross) and gave her audience a very delightful afternoon.

The annual chapter luncheon will be held at the Lincoln Court Apartment, Overbrook, on Saturday, May 3, at 1:00 P. M. The Pennsylvania State Regent, Mrs. Joseph Caley, will be guest of honor and all members are urged to be present. Reservations should be made with Mrs. John Nash or Mrs. Thomas Dunlap before April 28, 1930.

Have Special Music

Music lovers are being given a treat every night at the Narberth Theatre, where classical and other music is being played by co-operation of Walter G. Case, of the Narberth Electric Shop. In addition to an exit march and selections during intermissions, a special period of music has been introduced, from 6:45 P. M. to 7 o'clock, when the first evening "talkie" performance regularly begins.

Last week "The Music of Rudolf Friml," on five double-faced Victor records, was played by Nat Shilkret and the Victor Salon Group and Victor Salon Orchestra. The music is being played on a standard Victor Radiola-Electrola, RE-45.

FORE AND AFT

"The Rivals" again in the news; Notes on the Wayne Footlighters and the Hedgerow program.

Back in 1896, on May 8, to be exact, an amazing occurrence took place in Philadelphia, making theatrical history. On that day Joseph Jefferson and his famous all-star cast gave a single performance of Richard Brinsley Sheridan's famous comedy, "The Rivals," in this city. That company played 27 cities in an equal number of days, and indeed gave a matinee in New York and an evening performance in Brooklyn, just to make it more complicated.

Now in 1930 it was decided to duplicate that company's renowned tour upon the completion of the New York engagement of the all-star cast in this same comedy headed by Mrs. Fiske as Mrs. Malaprop. But many difficulties arose. It is not as simple in 1930 to book a consecutive route as it evidently was thirty-four years ago. Labor conditions, union contracts and demands made the whirlwind tour as visualized an impossibility, so various changes were of necessity made, but Philadelphia has been included in this tour just as it was in that previous one. On Monday, May 5, "The Rivals" will begin an engagement of one week at the Broad St. Theatre.

Various other changes have occurred in the transition from one century to the other. The Jefferson version of the comedy entirely omitted the role of Julia, which has been restored and is now played by Betty Linley, the great-grand-niece several times removed of the lovely Betty Linley of Bath who married Richard Brinsley Sheridan. Also for that tour $5.00 for orchestra seats was charged for the first time in the United States, unreserved seats being $1.50. In spite of the great advance in production costs (scenery and costumes), in salaries, transportation, newspaper advertising, and many other things, the highest price for all performances for this present engagement is $3.00.

Mrs. Fiske was seen in Philadelphia as Mrs. Malaprop five years ago during the all-star tour in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the writing of this ageless comedy. Bob Acres was played by James T. Powers then, as it is now; Georgette Cohan is again the Lucy, and George Tawde the Fag. Andrew Mack is the Sir Lucius; Rollo Peters, Captain Jack; and John Craig the fire eating Sir Anthony. Margery Maude who retired from the stage when she married is the Lydia. Mail orders are now being received.

Of more than local interest in the Little Theatre movement is the growth of Wayne's dramatic organization, "The Footlighters." This organization was formed only three months ago and has given two monthly plays of unusual quality. The membership has grown to such an extent that it has been found necessary to give two performances for the April meeting of the Saturday Club in Wayne. The dates are Tuesday, April 29th, and Wednesday, April 30th. The play will be "Drums of Oude," directed by Bayard Beatty, Jr.

It deals with a Sepoy mutiny in India, in 1857, and its handling by Scottish troops garrisoned in an Indian palace. The action is tense, moving swiftly; the climax is artistic and convincing. The members of the cast are:

Capt. Donald MacGregor,
Charles Smith
Lieut. Alan Huntly....Eugene Williams
Sergeant MacDougall....Arthur Edrop
Sentry Stewart.....Bayard Beatty, Jr.
Hindu Servants—Barry Thompson, William Welsh, Jr., Francis Smaltz.
Mrs. Jack Gordon,
Mrs. W. Robert Cameron

Tickets may be obtained from Percy W. Clark, St. Davids.

Tonight the Hedgerow Theatre will present Lynn Riggs' "Rancour" for the second time this season, with Dorothy Yockel and William Price in the leading parts. "Dulcy," a comedy by Kauffman and Connelly, is scheduled for tomorrow night. The cast includes Dorothy Yockel in the title role, Carl Reukauff, and Jasper Deeter.

Molnar's "Liliom" returns to the repertory next Thursday night, with Harry Bellaver, Miriam Phillips, Dudley Vaughan, Jean Sweidel and Jasper Deeter playing the chief roles.

Showplace—A New Definition

It is customary to refer to the Main Line as a showplace of the entire Philadelphia territory from architectural and scenic viewpoints, but it is only recently that rapid strides have brought it to the position of a centre of drama. At the present time there are three main theatrical organizations who lay claim to this section, in addition to quite a number of smaller and more impromptu groups. The Main Line has its own drama furnished by the Main Line Repertory Theatre, the Footlighters and the Hedgerow Theatre.

Like so many other activities it required but one invasion to cause others to spring up. Last year saw a not particularly successful attempt of the Hedgerow folks to do a little Main Line artistic uplifting on the native heath as represented by Wayne and Berwyn. But the Hedgerow Theatre, while ceasing to produce plays in these parts, nevertheless still continues to draw upon support and friendships hereabouts for its theatre at Moylan-Rose Valley.

The Main Line Repertory Theatre in its second season has attained standards and achieved distinction which entitle it to become a permanent fixture of local cultural life. Selecting plays of outstanding merit for presentation, this group of residents has shown a willingness and ability to overcome handicaps usually found only in a more seasoned organization.

Wayne's contribution to the Little Theatre movement, the Footlighters, is but three months old. Already, however, it is on a one-play-a-month schedule with a membership which will require two performances of its current offering on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Christopher Morley Returns

Haverford College has noted men on its faculty; many of its alumni have achieved no small measure of fame, but it is fairly safe to say that the institution claims but one current celebrity, to wit, Christopher Morley. So it is with considerable satisfaction that the college is preparing to welcome home its graduate of 1910 as an instructor in several courses in English, beginning in the fall.

Christopher Morley is as truly Haverfordian as the most ardent alumnus could wish one to be. He spent the first ten years of his life on the campus while his father was a professor in mathematics at the college and returned in 1906 as an undergraduate, later to win a Rhodes Scholarship and other scholastic honors.

Today he is noted as a columnist, poet, novelist and theatrical producer. He has been on the staffs of a number of the nation's most important newspapers and magazines. Recently he has added new fame by his famous revivals of "After Dark" and other blood-and-thunder melodramas at old Hoboken theatres.

Morley combines the qualities of scholar, artist and showman. He will be a most welcome and romantic addition to the college faculty.

Sad, But True

"Some one suggests that the only way to drive is with the idea constantly in mind that the other fellow may be an idiot," says the Los Angeles Times.

This is sad but true. Recklessness seems to be part of the motoring code with millions of American drivers. And the inevitable result is that, every year, 25,000 to 30,000 persons are killed and hundreds of thousands injured in preventable automobile accidents.

The tragic part of it is that the enormous annual waste of life and property is almost entirely unnecessary. The unpreventable accident is rare as the dodo bird. Someone is incompetent or reckless in the case of practically every collision, great or small, between motor cars.

The blame may be laid in two places. First is the apparent indifference of many motorists to the fundamentals of safety. Second is the lack of strict licensing laws in most States to keep the incompetent and reckless off the road, and an accompanying lack of enforcement of modernized, common-sense traffic codes.

It is again the season of the year when boys are extremely healthy with mothers and other relatives becoming ill on days the A's are at home.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

Resigned

Will Jess please step up? The Uncle mailed his resignation to the publisher this morning. You may think he plead a great press of business; he did, among other things. The truth of the matter is that the Uncle is spoiled. He has been ever since The Sportsman published a silly article of his last October, or was it November? At that moment he got an idea that his pen was valuable. Other rejections since that time have not shown him the fallibility of his reasoning, so the shameful truth is that he announced to the publisher that he was no longer inclined to be philanthropic and that he would either have to have adequate compensation or the column would have to be written by Jess or someone else who enjoys seeing his ramblings and ravings in print. That's that! If the name of this colyum is changed next week, you'll realize that the publisher is a just man and has your interests and happiness at heart.

Hide-and-Seek

The Dry and Wet candidates for various offices are still bleating, so I'll make my farewell address on a solution of and a panacea for Prohibition.

Liquor is being drunk in huge quantities despite the Eighteenth amendment, Volstead Act, Jones Law, etcetera. Regardless of the contention of the Drys that more soda water and gingerale is being consumed, those of us who move in various circles know that drinking is indulged in in a far more universal manner than before the war. Very well. Law should reflect the desire of the mass of society. The mass seems to want to drink and to be drinking. Let's let them drink.

First we shall permit the manufacture of pure wines, beers and distillates. That solves that. Then we shall prohibit retail purchase of liquor. That prevents the return of the saloon. Only bottled goods may be sold and those in limited quantity. No drinking shall be permitted in public except wines and beers with meals in public eating places, restaurants, hotels, etcetera. Intoxication shall be subject to a fine and one day's imprisonment. Any nuisance due to intoxication shall be liable to fine and six days' incarceration. Driving while intoxicated shall be punishable by fine and fifteen days in jail with six months' revocation of license. Injury or damage due to driving while intoxicated shall be punishable by a heavy fine and one to six years in jail at hard labor with permanent injunction against regaining an operator's license. All other crimes which the Drys ascribe to the use of liquor, but which are really caused by the abuse of liquor will be subject to severe punishment. This will put the Wets on their honor to uphold their often erroneous contentions and may engender a respect for the law which has been so conspicuously lacking among the average people for the past twelve years.

Breaking Ice

In spite of the fact that I am very forward with my friends I am still as nervous as a boy among strangers and as for striking up a chance conversation, I'm simply lost. One day last week I was coming down from New York and a most charming-looking young lady sat in the chair next to mine. Since Aunt Cy stayed over, I should have liked very much to have engaged this charmer in a two hours' conversation, but for the life of me I couldn't get up nerve to break the ice, and I suppose she's just as well pleased. I don't believe these flappers would feel much flattered to have a middle-aged and slightly portly fox-hunter try to engage their time even to vary the boredom of the dreary Jersey landscape.

Jess, who knows everything, and who admits that he's a great little kisser, ought to be able to tell me how one goes about such delicate matters in order not to be sued or slandered afterwards.

If I don't see you next week, goodbye, God bless you, and thank you for being so patient for so long.

Extending the Service of a Great Store . . .

OUR MAIN LINE STORE will be an integral part of the greater Strawbridge & Clothier Store now being erected at Market, Eighth and Filbert Streets, Philadelphia—a practical and comprehensive extension of service for the convenience of the residents of the metropolitan district extending along the Main Line and surrounding territory. We sincerely trust that this store will find a hearty welcome among the other business places of this community and believe that it will add to the general prestige and prosperity of the entire section, bringing added business to other merchants there as well as to ourselves.

All the advantages of Strawbridge & Clothier's buying power will be represented in the merchandise stocks of the Main Line Store—the directory in the adjoining column will give you a picture of the lines to be carried and where they will be located. Patrons of this store will have all the advantages of selection, fashion and price which can only be made possible by large volume and world-wide buying facilities.

STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER

CHARGE ACCOUNTS

All charge accounts will be good at both stores, and if you do not have an account with us we invite you to make application at once. Such application should be directed to the Credit Manager of Strawbridge & Clothier, Philadelphia.

For Third Term

Joseph F. Dolan, Jr., who commenced his third term as Bala-Cynwyd's postmaster April 9. Word of his appointment by President Hoover received here this week from Postmaster General Walter F. Brown at Washington, where it was ratified by the United States Senate.

Next Repertory Play to Be Given May 7

The next play of the Main Line Repertory Theatre will be presented on Wednesday, May 7, at the Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd, instead of on May 22, as previously announced.

The change in date has been occasioned by the casting committee who were most anxious to give Philip Barry's comedy, "You and I," as the closing bill of the season. However, the absence from town of two of the principals after the middle of May made it necessary to advance the production to May 7. Miss Lisel Boericke, who will sail on May 20 for an extended tour of Russia and study of the Russian theatre, will play the part of Ronny. Staats Cotsworth, who has recently returned from a sketching trip of the West, will play the part of Maitland White, in which H. B. Warner starred in the original production of this play. Mr. Cotsworth expects to be in New York shortly after the first of May, where he will complete a commission for murals.

Others in the cast will include Mrs. John Carver, of Cynwyd; Miss Christine Shillard-Smith, John H. Faunce, 4th, of Cynwyd; Jay Colesberry, of Chestnut Hill, and John Creighton, of Wynnefield.

Names of 21 Residents Drawn For Jury Service

Names of eighteen Lower Merion residents and of three Narberth citizens have been drawn by the Montgomery County jury commissioners to serve as jurors at the second week of April term of Criminal Court, which will open at Norristown May 19, 1930. The panel includes 180 names.

The names of local residents drawn for this service are: Mary Agnew, Fannie Barrows, Marguerite Burrell, Clarence H. Clarke, 3d, John Esrey, Mollie Foster, Frank Harmstad, Katherine Jones, Benjamin Jacobs, William H. Katz, Harry Labowitz, Joseph Mandes, Laura B. Melcher, Josephine Muhly, Charles Paul, Harold W. Reeves, B. W. Woodbury and Robert W. Wigton, all of Lower Merion.

William Heard, Jr., Paul Loos and Ida G. Reevs, of Narberth.

New Central Fire Alarm System to Be Installed in Lower Merion Township

All Fire Calls Will Go to Fire Switchboard at Township Building.

WILL SPEED REPORTING

A new method of reporting fires by telephone is soon to be established in Lower Merion Township, it was announced yesterday by Commissioner A. D. Warnock, chairman of the Police and Fire Committee of the Board of Commissioners.

Arrangements have been completed with the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania for the installation of a special forty-line switchboard in the Township Building, Lancaster Pike and Argyle Road, Ardmore. The new "fire board" will be placed beside the existing police switchboard, insuring immediate response to fire calls at all hours of the day and night by the officer on duty at the police board. Installation will begin at once.

When the new fire service is inaugurated any resident of Ardmore, Bryn Mawr, Cynwyd, Merion or Narberth will be able to obtain direct communication with the fire switchboard by lifting the receiver of his telephone and giving the operator the code name of the central office area from which the call is being made, followed by the figures "20."

Then he can designate the scene of the blaze—whether in his own home or business establishment, or in the immediate neighborhood—ending the call by giving the officer on duty at the switchboard in the Township Building the number of the telephone from which he is calling.

"For example," said Commissioner Warnock, "an Ardmore resident who wishes to report a fire will be able to do so by calling 'Ardmore 20.' Similarly, residents of the other communities in the township will be able to report fires by asking the operator for Narberth 20,' 'Cynwyd 20' and 'Merion 20'."

The present telephone number of the Lower Merion Township police headquarters is "Ardmore 20," so it will be necessary to change the police number to "Ardmore 4200" after the centralized method of handling fire calls is inaugurated. Persons wishing to transact business with other departments in the Township Building will be required to ask the operator for "Ardmore 3700."

"Establishment of the new system of handling fire calls is certain to prove beneficial to the township," continued Mr. Warnock, "for it will make it possible to handle emergency calls of this nature more rapidly and efficiently than ever before.

"After the proposed method has been instituted, if a Cynwyd resident calls the fire board and reports a fire at a certain address, the man on duty at the switchboard will immediately flash the message over a special wire to the firehouse of the Bala-Cynwyd Fire Company. There will be a man on duty at the telephone in the firehouse at all hours of the day and night, and when he receives notification of a fire from the fire switchboard he will sound the siren to notify members of the department, police officials and all others whose presence is necessary at a fire.

"This procedure will, of course, be followed in the other Lower Merion Township communities, thus eliminating the present system of reporting fires, which requires the person making the report to telephone the nearest firehouse. Not only will it be easy hand Friday, April 25, range from the Jesse Crawford organ recording of Gershwin's popular Rhapsody in Blue (No. 22343), to the Red Seal recording of Feodor Chaliapin's magnificent bass singing of Koenemann's "When the King Went Forth to War" and Poushkin-Rimsky-Korsakow's "The Prophet" (No. 7199).

On records 7196 and 7197 the Boston Symphony Orchestra under direction of Serge Koussevitsky plays Prokofieff's Classical Symphony in D Major, and a Scherzo and March called "The Love for Three Oranges," by the same modern composer.

—And the latest jazz, including "Red Hot Chicago," "Only Love Is Real," "Send for Me," "Exactly Like You," is played by Waring's Pennsylvanians, the High Hatters, and the New Yorker Hotel Orchestra, among others.

Among the new album sets of records is Stokowski's and the Philadelphia Orchestra's latest—"Carnival of the Animals," by Saint-Saens, and Tschaikowsky's "Song Without Words," in A Minor, played by the symphony orchestra assisted by two famous pianists.

—And many more orthophonic recordings, just released.

Hear these Victor records as reproduced on the RE-45 or RE-75 for marvelous reproduction.

We'll be glad to play them, or others from our extensive stock of recent and other records, in sound-proof booths at the Narberth Electric Shop: "A Real Radio and Music Rendezvous."

Many Rules Regulated Undergraduate Life at Haverford College During Mid-Nineteenth Century

From the Haverford College News:

Contrasts between the student life of the nineteenth century at Haverford with the recreations and the avocations of a present-day Haverfordian impress the reader of the College History as much as any other phase of Haverford's development. But the omnipresent willingness of youth to break rules, and indeed there were many to break, was potent in 1848.

"It was a well-contented score of lads in May of 1848 to assault the heights of Quaker learning. They knew hard work and strict discipline were to be theirs, but they had not been bred in self-indulgence; they knew the white-washed fence which bounded the lawn would be their 'bounds' which, except by leave, they could not cross, or go into any house beyond it, save by permission.

"They knew no money would be in their pockets but the scant sums furnished through the school authorities; they knew those authorities would inspect their books and withhold all fiction, would select their newspapers which they would lock up on Sundays; would require them to rise early and be at breakfast at the tap of the bell, to avoid at all hours each other's rooms, and each in his own in the hours of forenoon.

"They knew their dress must be simple and plain; that 'plain' meant likeness to forms worn by Friends, avoidance of which was held as an indisposition to avow the beliefs of the Society.

"Not that the boyish nature was never to break out, and every rule be always inviolate; not that Mother Purdy, the colored woman on Old Lancaster Road, was never to be called upon for an oyster stew, or White Hall for mince turnover or cider; not that the summer moon would never shine at midnight upon young forms which had climbed through chamber windows to the roof of the porch; nor the transom over a chamber door be never darkened after bedtime, to conceal a group engaged in the rapid displacement of rectangular pieces of pasteboard bearing spots in shapes non-geometrical and figures the faces whereof were not portraits of the ancient Friends."

What reaction would Haverfordians of today have to such rules?

"After tea on Saturdays, permission was easily had to ramble out of bounds or to visit Charlie Arthur's Ice Cream Saloon.

"In the evenings of the summer many students amused themselves by gathering together in the parlor to read aloud Macaulay's History."

The importance of character to the school officials is readily seen: "The diploma of Haverford is not given unless both the conditions of passing the required examinations and being of good moral character are fulfilled."

Loopholes in these strict rules were found by fair means or foul. Because a local dentist had made the mistake of pulling a sound tooth instead of a decayed one, the unlimited ban on going to Philadelphia was lifted so as to allow those needing dental treatment to go to the city. The History comments on the affair thus:

"It is hardly to be supposed that the charms of the dental chair would be sufficient to lead many to town on this pretext; but, as truthful historians, we are compelled to state that an epidemic of diseased tooth soon after prevailed to such an extent that it became necessary to change the course of treatment."

New Central Fire Alarm System to Be Installed

for any resident of the township to remember the new fire switchboard number '20,' but it will enable the township fire officials to decide instantly which fire companies shall be asked to speed to the aid of the company in whose community the fire has broken out.

"Each of the following seven firehouses will be linked directly to the fire switchboard by special telephone lines: the Merion Fire Company in Ardmore; the Union Fire Association, of Bala-Cynwyd; the Bryn Mawr Fire Company, the Narberth Fire Department, the Penn-Wynne Overbrook Hills Fire Company, in Penn-Wynne; the West Manayunk Fire Company and the Autocar Fire Company.

"Under the new system the officer on duty at the fire switchboard in the Township Building will be enabled to notify not only the fire company nearest the scene of the fire, but to direct the proper nearby companies to stand by to render assistance if the outbreak assumes serious proportions. Establishment of the new system will therefore result in a real increase in the speed with which fires will be reported, and in a marked improvement in the administrative control of the fire-fighting units of the township."

Bala Court Ready for Davis Matches

The new court at the Philadelphia Country Club, Bala, which was constructed especially for the Davis Cup tennis matches between the United States and Canada, May 15, 16, 17, is completed, Frederic R. Kirkland, chairman of the Philadelphia Davis Cup committee, has announced.

Both stands will seat 5000 persons. Already more than 1000 reservations have been made. Many of the boxes have been taken by the smartest members of the sporting set. Among those who are serving as patronesses are:

Revised Building Code Adopted by Township

The second revision of the Lower Merion Township Building code, in preparation for nearly two years, was approved by the Board of Commissioners at their regular meeting last week.

Under the new code, no sky signs such as the sign on the Franklin Building in Ardmore, will be permitted. Billboards must not exceed nine feet in height and twenty-five feet in width. The old code permitted signs thirteen feet in height.

Provision is made when an electric flasher sign is erected, a by-pass condenser must be installed to eliminate radio interference.

The original building code was passed in 1920 and the first revision made in 1921. Other changes in the code of a technical nature in keeping with modern construction were made.

Teletype Installed by L. M. Police Department

With the installation of a new teletype machine in the Ardmore Police headquarters last week, the Main Line was linked to all other police agencies in the State.

The machine automatically typewrites all messages sent from all parts of the State and adjacent police territories. The messages are relayed from central sending stations in Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

Messages are only received over the set. Any information that is for distribution through the system is telephoned into Philadelphia and from there distributed to all interested police stations.

Superintendent Charles P. Smith, said in speaking of the teletype:

"This is the greatest invention that has been made accessible for police work in the history of civilization Through the teletype we will be given a powerful weapon to combat the spread of crime in suburban communities."

Chevrolet Used by First Turkish Girl Taxi Driver

The old adage, "It's a man's world," is fast becoming obsolete even in Turkey where feminine rights, as such, have only recently begun to receive attention. There are few fields that seem less fitted for women, even in the western world, than that of taxi-driver, yet in Constantinople a young convent-bred girl recently proclaimed her emancipation by taking a chauffeur's test and embarking on a career of taxi-driving.

Mouamer Hanoum was just eighteen years of age when she startled Constantinople by announcing her intention of taking a chauffeur's course. She subsequently passed the severe physical examination and, in a business-like manner, asserted that she was prepared to enter the driver's tests. She displayed such unusual skill at the wheel that she completed her course in record time and captured highest honors.

As a full-fledged taxi-chauffeur, Miss Mouamer's first consideration was the choice of her vehicle. She selected a Chevrolet six, which has been specially equipped for taxi work. She is now happily employed driving passengers around the Turkish capital

Neighborhood Built Within Five Years

Vision of Builders Comes True With Interest as Development Grows

NOW HAS 309 RESIDENCES

A romance of successful community building might well be woven into the story of the development of Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion and its sister town, Penn-Wynne.

Two builders, Martin McWilliams and Joseph A. Meloney, both born and raised in Philadelphia, had visions of an ideal community when they looked over the farmland extending north from City Line and west from Haverford Road in the early months of 1925.

Today, 309 homes stand amidst pretty garden settings in the area which, so few years ago, had been but waste land.

Wide roads were laid out with generous sidewalk space. Sewers were laid, miles of them. Lights were erected, hundreds of them. A quaint replica of an English guest house was erected at the corner of City Line and Haverford Road which still excites the admiration of passersby. This authentic reproduction is the firm's office.

Three years ago, Penn-Wynne was opened. It lies above Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion. The homes constructed in Penn-Wynne have all the fine workmanship of the larger homes in Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion, but for the most part are located on smaller lots.

Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion and Penn-Wynne property is now valued at about $3,400,000, and the taxes paid go a long way toward meeting the expenses of Lower Merion Township and Montgomery County. Perhaps no community in the Main Line section has had such a phenomenal growth.

The residents of Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion and Penn-Wynne have formed an active civic association which fosters the community interests. Last year the association successfully conducted a garden contest, with valuable prizes.

The women of the community have organized a library which has grown rapidly. Nearly 800 volumes are available to the public. McWilliams and Meloney have given them the use of a building in Penn-Wynne, at the corner of Henley and Manoa Roads. The Penn-Wynne Fire Company is well organized, has one 600 gallon pumper, 1000 feet of hose and other equipment. It receives an annual appropriation of $2000 from Lower Merion Township and is a unit of the Township Fire Department.

GOLD MEDAL "A" MILK IS PERFECTLY SEALED

HAPPY DAYS

Childhood hours are free from care, as far as healthy youngsters are concerned. But in the times of illness, mother must bear the anxiety. Milk, nature's great companion of fresh air and sunshine, is a dependable guardian of children's health. Thirty-four gold medals attest the superior purity of this fine milk. It brings a rich supply of lime and phosphorus to develop strong bones and teeth; proteins to build firm muscle; iron to enrich the blood; vitamins essential to health. Give your child a quart every day.

A. M. Collins Resigns From Zoning Board

William W. Bodine Appointed to Adjustment Body as Successor.

Alfred M. Collins, of Ardmore, tendered his resignation from the Board of Adjustment of Lower Merion Township at the April meeting of the Board of Commissioners on Wednesday evening. Anticipated absence for a long period was given as Mr. Collins' reason. It was regretfully accepted by the Board.

The appointment of William W. Bodine, of Rosemont, to the position made vacant by Mr. Collins' resignation was confirmed by the Board.

Committee appointments were made as follows: Thomas W. Andrews to the Health and Drainage and Playgrounds Committee. Mr. Andrews, taking his seat as commissioner for the first time, was welcomed to the Board by President Frank H. Sykes. Messrs. Brown and Williams were appointed to the by-laws committee.

A communication to the Board from the Community Health and Civic Association, urging the establishment of a Shade Tree Commission to care for and plant trees along the public highways was referred to the Highway Committee.

The week of May 12 was set by the Board of Commissioners as clean-up and paint-up week for the township.

Four hundred and twenty-eight arrests were reported from March 12 to April 8, inclusive, in the report of the Superintendent of Police. The great majority of them were for violation of stop signs in the township.

College Athletes from Here Form Boys' Camp

Former college athletes headed by Folwell Scull, Bala, and Douglas Crate, Lansdowne, will form the basis of a boys' camp, "Katahdin," at Bangor, Me., this summer. The camp, which was organized in 1928, is scheduled to operate this year from June 27 to August 23.

Messrs. Scull and Crate, organizers of the camp, are both teachers at Friends' Central School, Overbrook. Folwell, former Lower Merion and University of Pennsylvania football and track star, teaches history and mathematics and serves as track coach; Crate is athletic director of the school.

Counsellors at the camp this summer will include : Gene Kuen, U. of P., and "Coop" French, Penn State, football stars; "Reds" Alden, Swarthmore track captain; Harry Darlington, F. M. soccer player; Albert Horton, U. of P. Glee Club, who will be in charge of camp dramatics; Bob Norton, Darmouth; Frank Kirschner and Marvin Porch, of Clayton H. S., N. J.; Richard Dear, U. of P. track star; Jack Biggs, captain of Friends' Central football and basketball teams, and Tom Bowers, R. O. T. C., in charge of rifle instruction at the camp.

Boys at the camp, about a dozen of whom are from this section, will each week visit beauty and historic points near Bangor, in addition to their camp routine of sports and recreation.

Art Appreciation—"How to Look at Pictures"— Is Artist's Topic at Woman's Club Meeting

The Art Department of the Women's Club of Bala-Cynwyd, under the direction of Mrs. George Trenholme, presented an unusually absorbing program Wednesday at the club house.

Mr. J. Frank Copeland, noted Philadelphia artist, lecturer and instructor at the Philadelphia School of Industrial Arts, was the spellbinder, creating one lovely drawing after the other before the eyes of his delighted audience.

Mr. Copeland's drawings were made at the conclusion of a talk on how to enjoy exhibition pictures, in which he suggested, as a means of avoiding fatigue and confusion of mind, that one study the type of painting that appeals most and let the rest go, or look up the work of one's favorite painters.

"One often wonders," he said, "why freaks are so prominently hung and the work of Charlatans given such respectful attention by the art critics. The layman needs to know what constitutes a work of art amid such confusion.

"A certain knowledge of or feeling for balance, harmony, unity of thought, concentration of effect and simplicity are the principal ingredients of a pleasing picture."

Mr. Copeland then began drawing to make vivid his words. Like child's play it seemed to him to produce from charcoal toned paper the most diverse effects by apparently accidental dabs of a chamois here and there.

At least the drawing began with such an accidental dab. The splotch of light thus lifted from the dark suggested a nucleus for his picture, perhaps a camp fire, a dungeon window, the glow of a sunset sky. Then with an eye to his rules for pleasing composition, he let one touch suggest the next until the scene was finished. He made four of these drawing, Corot-like in their delicate softness, totally unlike in subject, size and shape, yet each a gem of beauty for the imagination to play upon and develop still further.

His skill made the process look so simple that many left with the feeling they could do likewise, and fill their homes immediately with similar masterpieces. Thus suavely did the artist prove his theory of the joy that ease of handling gives the beholder.

Mr. Copeland's lecture was delightful entertainment and should assist materially in the development of appreciation of works of art.—(A. M. F.)

Geiges New Coach of Haverford Eleven

Was Mentor at Frankford High For Past Thirteen Years.

Elwood A. Geiges, for the past thirteen years football mentor at Frankford High School, Philadelphia, will make his debut in collegiate circles next fall as head coach of the Haverford College football team.

He will succeed Harvey Harman, Haverford coach for the past seven years, who will go to the University of the South at Sewanee, in company with Paul Scull, as coach of that institution.

During his career at Frankford, Geiges has produced four championship teams in the Public High School League, and runners up on several other occasions. His teams were unbeaten for three years.

At Haverford he will have two men who were former Frankford players, captain-elect Hall Conn and Fields.

Knave of Hearts Propaganda Denied in Play to Be Given by Junior Woman's Club, April 29

"The Knave of Hearts," a one-act fanciful play by Louise Saunders, will be given by the Junior Women's Club of Bala-Cynwyd for the Senior Club and their escorts, 8.30 P. M. Tuesday, April 29. The play, which will be followed by a dance, will be given in the Bala-Cynwyd Women's Club.

"The Queen of Hearts"—so runs a rime—"she made some tarts, all on a summer's day. The Knave of Hearts he stole those tarts; he took them quite away. The King of Hearts called for those tarts, and beat the knave full sore. The Knave of Hearts brought back the tarts, and vowed he would sin no more."

That this statement which has persisted through the ages is incorrect, is the contention of the playwright, whose thesis is that the knave is no knave but a hero indeed.

The Juniors taking part in the play, which is now in rehearsal, are:

Manager—Dorothy Babb; Blue Hose—Lois Caley; Yellow Hose—Marian Babb; First and Second Heralds—Mary Wilkinson and Dorothy Woodruff; Pompdebile the Eighth, King of Hearts—Edith Miller; Chancellor—Helen Greenwood; Knave of Hearts—Mary Stone; Ursula—Dorothy Baird; the Lady Violetta—Arlene Friel; six little pages—Betty Hill, Esther Hunter, Dorothy Sutherland, Eleanor McChesney, Gladys Detweiler and Betty Feicht.

Mr. Edward Miller is coaching the play.—(By M. H.)

Little Garden Day Set for May 13-14

Eighth Annual Event, Awaited by Garden Lovers, to Be at Bryn Mawr

EMPHASIZE PERENNIALS

The Eighth Little Garden Day Sale, an annual event eagerly awaited by garden makers along the Main Line, will be held in the grounds of the Memorial Building, Bryn Mawr, for two days, May 13 and 14.

Mrs. J. Emott Caldwell is in charge of the sale. She promises even better plants and flowers than ever before. Great emphasis is being laid on perennials as well as Annual Flowering plants, vegetables and potted plants.

Lunch will be served each day by Mrs. C. C. Tyson and her able aids from Narberth.

The following ladies have consented to assist Mrs. Caldwell in making a success of the sale: Mrs. William T. Kirk, 3rd, in the Rosemont Booth; Mrs. J. Holcombe Genung, in the Bryn Mawr Booth; Mrs. Kennard Keen, in the Ardmore Booth; Mrs. Leroy C. Douglass, in the Narberth Booth; Mrs. Thomas Kelly and Miss Janet Battey, in the Haverford Township Booth; Mrs. Johns Hopkins will sell cakes, and Mrs. C. C. English is providing attractions for the children.

An addition this year is an Information Service, under the chairmanship of Miss Evelina C. Walbaum. Several ladies and a number of practical gardeners will be on hand to give information as to the names and habits of various plants, and suggestions as to garden arrangement and planting.

The proceeds of the sale will be given to the Social Service Department of the Main Line Federation of Churches.

Is a Married Teacher as Efficient as Her Single Sister? "Question is One of Services Rendered," Says Educator

Should boards of education dismiss married teachers and replace them with single teachers?

The question has been raised among administrators of the public schools by the recent action of the North Coventry school board, near Pottstown, which dismissed five married teachers in order to give their positions to five single teachers.

Dr. Le Roy A. King, a member ot the Narberth School Board, professor of educational administration in the School of Education at the University of Pennsylvania and a member of the State Council of Education answers: "The question is one of services rendered, and not of outside conditions."

"No outside interest on the part of any teacher, whether married or single, man or women, should be allowed to conflict with the best interests of the teaching job," said Dr. King in discussing the status of the married woman in the teaching profession. "After all, the public pays the bill for education and they deserve one hundred per cent. efficient service. There always exists the danger that the "sideline' will overshadow the main job and that teaching will come to be regarded as merely a 'sideline.'

"It would be difficult to measure the efficiency of married teachers in comparison with single ones. Undoubtedly, there would be outstanding cases of unusual teaching ability in each group. However, when a teacher signs a contract to give her services to a school district, it is assumed that teaching is her major occupation. It is difficult to see how a married woman can give 100 per cent. efficient service and at the same time either supervise or attend directly to the duties of a home, particularly when there are children to be cared for. What is needed, I think, is a study of each individual case on its merits. School teaching is such an individualized occupation that it is unfair to form a general opinion from a few cases considered.

"Taxpayers and patrons of a school district should be expected to require efficient services from teachers, superintendents, principals and supervisors, in fact, all persons connected with the enterprise. When such services are not obtained, it is my judgment that a school board, in its capacity as representing the taxpayer, is justified in terminating the services of any school officer or teacher, whether single or married."

Narberth Man Robbed in City on Saturday

Frank H. Kennedy, of Lantwyn Lane, Narberth, was relieved of a sum of money and his watch and chain by robbers when leaving the office of his physician on Pine Street near Seventeenth, Philadelphia, last Saturday night.

Kennedy had just gotten into his automobile at the curb when two young men appeared, drew pistols and thrust a foot in his door. The robbers disappeared up an alley and Kennedy reported the hold-up at the Twelfth and Pine Streets Police Station.

Green Speaker at J. H. Honor Day

Many Students With High Scholastic Records Honored.

JUNIOR HIGH HONOR DAY

On Wednesday, April 23, Lower Merion Junior High School observed its third Honor Day of the school year. This ceremony is for the purpose of honoring those students who for one quarter of the year have received a general average of 90 per cent. with no single mark below 80 per cent. Russell W. Green, Narberth and Norristown attorney, was the speaker of the day. He dwelt on the romance of one's job, emphasizing that enthusiasm for the thing you are doing leads to efficiency which spells ultimate attainment of the highest position within any chosen field. The following students received certificates and chevrons and had their names placed upon the school's scholastic honor roll:

Juliet Shaw, Wendell Alexander, Margaret Patterson and Nancy Bishop received monograms for having been on the Honor Roll for seven quarters.

recently returned from Florida.

In compliance with many requests, Miss Cowin has consented to leave her exhibit at the library for another week. Unfortunately, she will have to remove several of what have seemed to be the most popular of her oils as they are scheduled for exhibit elsewhere, but she promises to fill in the spaces with other selections from her studies.

All library patrons will enjoy this extended favor for the color on the walls has proved a very distinct addition to the appearance of the room and suggests possibilities of future decoration. All residents of the community whether library patrons or not are invited to view the exhibit as freely as they wish.

Miss Cowin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cowin of Merion Avenue, and has studied at the School of Industrial Art in Philadelphia, and is a graduate of the School of Design for Women.

Railway Postal Clerk Examination Announced

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced that until May 16, 1930, it will accept applications for railway postal clerk positions from men who have reached their eighteenth but not their thirty-fifth birthday, and who are residents of and have their post office addresses in Pennsylvania.

Full information may be obtained from the Secretary, United States Civil Service Board or at the Narberth post office.

Villanova College to Launch Expansion Campaign on Main Line at Dinner Wednesday

The campaign of Villanova College to raise $2,300,000 for expansion will be launched on the Main Line next Wednesday evening at a dinner to be given at the college to the Main Line Businessmen's Committee.

This committee, headed by Philip A. Hart, president of the Bryn Mawr Trust Company, is composed of sixty men, who are giving active support to Villanova's expansion program.

At Wednesday's dinner plans will be formulated and ideas discussed for the prosecution of the campaign on the Main Line. It is expected that many friends and guests will attend in addition to the committee. No solicitation will be made at the dinner. It will be served at 6:30.

The college plans and aims were disclosed at a dinner given Tuesday night at the Bellevue-Stratford attended by Catholic clergy and laity and many Villanova alumni.

The expansion program has eight major projects classified as follows:

To increase the lay faculty and bring salaries to the level of other institutions, $800,000.

School of Commerce and Finance Building, $200,000.

New dormitory, $175,000.

New dining hall, $150,000.

Library building, $175,000.

Revolving scholarship loan fund, $500,000.

Gymnasium-auditorium, $200,000.

Swimming pool, $100,000.

W. J. McGlinn, chairman of the Villanova Fund Executive Committee, introduced the toastmaster, David J. Smyth. Among those who spoke urging Philadelphians to contribute to the campaign fund were Bishop Gerald P. O'Hara, the Rev. Dr. James H. Griffin, president of Villanova; Monsignor John J. Bonner, diocesan superintendent of schools; the Rev. Dr. George Johnson, professor of education at the Catholic University; Justice John W. Kephart, of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court; Michael J. McEnery, Stanley F. Coar and Frank H. Mancill.

Main Line members of the Villanova College Fund Executive Committee, headed by Cardinal Dougherty, includes Rev. James H. Griffin, Eugene V. Alessandroni, John J. Cabrey, Ben L. Carroll, Philip A. Hart, William L. Hirst, Dr. John A. Kolmer, Patrick J. Lawler, Robert W. Lesley, Frank H. Mancill, James Pentony, Frank Smith, Samuel C. Wagner, Jr.

The Advisory Committee includes the following Main Line residents: Samuel T. Bodine, Dr. W. W. Comfort, Patrick J. Lawler, Samuel M. Vauclain, James M. Willcox.

make a poor team," he asserted, "and will overbalance whatever benefits might be derived from hitching to either one single-harness." It was a quaint way of referring to the fact that both the Pinchot County Committee and the Davis-Brown County Committee are backing these two candidates.

Two sets of copies of Primary Election Ballots were circulated in this township during the week.

One recommended: Gifford Pinchot, for Governor; Charles Armstrong, for lieutenant governor; ignored the U. S. Senatorial situation; Philip H. Dewey, Secretary of Internal Affairs; George W. Maxey, for Justice of the Supreme Court; William B. Linn and J. Frank Graff, for judges of the Superior Court—and on the county ticket—Benjamin H. Ludlow, for State Senator; Maurice W. Sloan, Jr., for State Representative in Assembly; B. Paul Sheeder for State Committee; Mrs. Margaret G. Town, for State Committee. A note at the bottom of the sheet read: "These county candidates have full endorsement of the Pinchot County Committee and of the Brown-Davis County Committee.

The other recommended: Francis Shunk Brown, for Governor; Armstrong for lieutenant governor; James J. Davis, for U. S. Senator, and followed from there on completely down the above list, including the aforementioned county candidates. A note at the bottom of this sheet read: "These county candidates have full endorsement of the Brown-Davis County Committee and the Pinchot County Committee."

It was these sheets which caused several regular Republican workers to begin to link together the names of Sheeder, a wet, Ludlow and Sloan, drys, Pinchot, a dry, William S. Vare, backer of Davis-Brown ticket and a wet—but all apparently united with the single aim of overthrowing the Johnson regime in Montgomery County.

Junior High Trackmen Score 95-29 Victory

Coach Harvey Harman sent his track squad against Lansdowne J. H. S. in a dual meet Tuesday afternoon, and the Black and Orange of Lower Merion shook with joy from the top of the flagpole over the 95-to-29 victory. Joe Hays, colored star sprinter, won the 440-yard dash and took first in the broad jump. Lower Merion won all places in the 220 hurdles, shot put, discus and broad jump. Lansdowne failed to get a first place in the meet, but their second and third places kept them somewhat in sight of their opponents. The Main Liners took both relays, the 100 pound, and the varsity. As the relay team goes to the Penn Relays this afternoon, Coach Harman kept his runners out of other races and primed them for this event.
